Table GR29d: As you may know, NATO (including the U.S. government) have expressed concerns that Russia could launch cyberattacks against American companies that could destabilize government operations and a variety of other services.If Russia does launch cyberattacks against American companies, which of the following most closely aligns with your own opinion, even if none is exactly right?

Demographic	NATO (including the U.S.) should respond aggressively, by launching cyberattacks against Russia that are worse than the ones that Russia launches against American companies		NATO (including the U.S.). should respond in equal measure, by launching cyberattacks against Russia that are about the same as the ones that Russia launches against American companies.		NATO (including the U.S.) should not launch any cyberattacks against Russia, even if Russia launches cyberattacks against American companies.		Don't know / No opinion		Total N

Table GR30a: Here's some more information As you may know, the U.S. government has rejected Ukraine's request for NATO to impose a no-fly zone that could limit Russian warplanes' ability to support Russia's invasion of Ukraine. If a no-fly zone were imposed over Ukraine, NATO forces would patrol Ukrainian airspace to ensure that Russian aircraft do not enter Ukrainian territory, and would potentially enter into combat with Russian aircraft that do enter Ukrainian territory, increasing the risk of direct military confrontation between NATO (including the U.S.) and Russia.Based on what you know, how strongly do you support or oppose NATO imposing a no-fly zone over Ukraine?

Table GR30b: Here's some more information As you may know, the U.S. government has rejected Ukraine's request for NATO to impose a no-fly zone that could limit Russian warplanes' ability to support Russia's invasion of Ukraine. If a no-fly zone were imposed over Ukraine, NATO forces would patrol Ukrainian airspace to ensure that Russian aircraft do not enter Ukrainian territory, and would potentially enter into combat with Russian aircraft that do enter Ukrainian territory, increasing the risk of a direct war between NATO (including the U.S.) and Russia.Based on what you know, how strongly do you support or oppose NATO imposing a no-fly zone over Ukraine?
