Table MCTE12: As you may know, President Donald Trump shared a video statement as a group of his supporters broke into the U.S. Capitol earlier this week telling them to go home and that 'we love you, you're very special.' In response, multiple social media companies removed the videos because they violated their policies against interfering in elections, including the spread of false or misleading information. In your opinion, do you approve or disapprove of the social media companies' decision to remove the video?

Table MCTE12: As you may know, President Donald Trump shared a video statement as a group of his supporters broke into the U.S. Capitol earlier this week telling them to go home and that 'we love you, you're very special.' In response, multiple social media companies removed the videos because they violated their policies against interfering in elections, including the spread of false or misleading information. In your opinion, do you approve or disapprove of the social media companies' decision to remove the video?
